Dublin Airport Update

- Over 2.8 million passengers passed through Dublin Airport in April (up 18% from April 2022), bringing to 9.5 million the total for the first four months of 2023.
- The South Runway (10R/28L) was withdrawn from service to facilitate essential maintenance works from 11.00pm to 4.30am for four consecutive nights between May 15 and 18. Unfortunately, there was an issue with communications that resulted in our normal advance notification not being sent. daa apologises for this and has taken steps to ensure this situation is not repeated.
- North Runway's next phase of operational integration will see its hours move to 8pm from June 1, 2023. It is expected that these hours will further increase later in the summer, but not before July 1. Advance notice will be provided.
- Letters were issued in early May to residents who are eligible for the Residential Noise Insulation Scheme with accompanying information regarding the scheme and opt-in details.
- Noise monitoring data results have now been shared for the first four temporary noise monitoring locations nominated by SMATW. The results from the other four locations will be available in the next three to four weeks.
- The 2021 END noise contours are now available on Dublin Airport's website.
